

THE PARK

Watch them play, lead the way through the clouds Higher up, then we have been before Hear the sound from the ground underneath
We are here, they are there It's life

That's how the songs began to heal, all the people in the park All the people standing here watching, smiling There was a woman crying out, louder than the others We wanna thank her for that We wanna thank her for that

CANYON

Hidden canyon, hidden from me
Calling me, calling me Hidden beauty, hidden from me Calling me, calling me

Home is Where there's sun
sun
sun
sun

Hidden bruises, from outrage Cover me, cover me, mmm hm
hm

Home is Where there's light Light
Light
Light

Piano solo

Hidden canyon, hidden from me
Calling me, calling me, me ,me ,me
hm

Home is Where there's sun
sun
sun
sun

HARP

Without a word, without a sign, he started to speak Talked about all that matters to him Morning light, a good nights sleep a timeless wish Now he's alone, alone and free

Fear not, hear not, what I say Everything is already far away (bandet)
It can't be stopped It's like the see (bandet) Constantly moving, flowing in me

There wasn't time
enough to undersand
cause there wasn't light
enough to follow land

Searching high and low Far into, not fall out When I tried, you where already gone
oh gone
oh
gone
oh

Double bass solo

There wasn't time
enough to undersand
enough to follow land

Searching high and low
Far into, not fall out
already gone
oh
gone
oh
gone
oh
...

63 RED BALLONS

Oh I've been walking a while with this scen in my mind and i've been trying to get here to get rid of the fear and then i walked through the gate with two golden lions and he said to me that everything had gone alright and i believed him right away since he was the golden prince, the creator of our universe oh i looked up at the sky they were there swirling so high on the ground there was fear but there was no fear up there like 63 red balloons attached to the roof like glowing stars on a cold, cold night and when the fire burned out, they took off so gently and they entered our universe

like 63 red balloons attached to the roof
like glowing stars on a cold, cold night

YOU'RE SORRY

Instumental part

You're sorry
sorry, for the things that you have done (you're sorry)
sorry for the fact that you're sorry

You wished that she could stay but all you could was to scare her away but that was for the best so don't be sorry

A DRIED TEAR

In a warm darkened room
These two people exchanged Words and thought from the past Words about ice striking fast Tell me what I need to hear You're the light
 You are the sphere

With the light in his face He stared out into the room
He said please come to me Bring your joy Set us free
Tell me what I need to hear I've an eye with a dried tear

Instrumental part

OMEN'S PRELUDE / ONE CLOUD

One cloud Above us there is One cloud
Go To Sleep
No More Children laugh And No
Guns Screaming
Their way through The sky

“And now there’s nothing left here The ocean’s gone and”

No one Will ever live here no one
Earth
Is dead
Now
Sun Got Big and burst In two
We shed
Hundreds of thousands of tears

“We’ll never think of truth again
We know it in our heart
We listen sharper nowadays To all that’s Gold”

Instrumental part (Choir repeats)
“We’ll never think of truth again
We know it in our heart
To all that’s golden (Last time)
Gold”
